

KATIE'S VISUAL MEDIA:

LOVE SONG TO GLEN CANYON DVD

- Katydid Books & Music - 2007

Images, words and songs in a movie about my ten year exploration of a canyon now drowned beneath Powell Reservoir. Glen Canyon was an Eden unequalled anywhere on earth. The lesson to not let this happen to your Eden, wherever it may be, is the driving force behind this collection of 145 rarely seen photos.

THE LAST WAGON VCR

- Katydid Books & Music - 1991

Presents two of the best known and loved songs of the Old West, sung by the cowboys who wrote them, along with their stories of how and why they did so. Gail Gardner wrote "The Sierry Petes" (Tying Knots in the Devil's Tail) and Billy Simon composed the music for Charles Badger Clark's famous poem, "The Border Affair" (Spanish Is the Loving Tongue) Filmed in Prescott, AZ at Billy's Horse Camp and at Gail Gardner's home.

This film received a Golden Eagle Award from the Council of International Nontheatrical Events (CINE) and was chosen to represent the USA in international motion picture events. Adapted from two chapters of my book, Ten Thousand Goddam Cattle; written, directed and narrated by me. It was filmed and edited by Harry Atwood and produced at the TV Bureau, University of Arizona.

[Amusing sidelight: I had to have 500 jackets for the VCR reprinted because my proof-reader missed a booboo in Jim Bob Tinsley's liner note. It went to the printer as: "A heartwarming tribute complete with authentic dialogue and the sounds of thundering hoofbeats, balling cattle and creaking windmills..." When I called my proofer on it, he responded: "Well, they do - look at all of 'em up there."]
